

Light Roast _____

COSTA RICA

Our light roast is a smooth coffee, almost like a tea. It has an aroma of roasted nuts and a sweet aftertaste similar to toasted almonds.

COLOMBIA

This is what you may consider as a traditional New England cup of coffee. Not too dark, not too light with a great coffee flavor.

Medium Roast _____

HOUSE BLEND

A wonderful blend of Central and South American beans keep your taste buds hopping. This coffee has a great roasted flavor upfront, however it quickly turns to a savory smooth sweetness. Then, when you think it is over, a nice earthen aftertaste rises to the surface. Leaving you longing for another sip.

BURUNDI

Burundi is a consistent crowd pleaser. The first sip has a robust taste, but it quickly gives way to a sweet flowery flavor.

SULAWESI

This coffee has a wonderful balance. A mild roast flavor with some earthiness. It is smooth, yet has a good amount of body.

Dark Roast _____

SUMATRA

This is a wonderful French roast. It has a good amount of volume, plus a bold lingering smoky flavor.

MIDNIGHT OIL

Our own global blend of dark roasts. Bold and dark with a roasted walnut flavor and a very smooth finish.

PERU

It has a robust roasted flavor with a dry finish.

ROBUSTA

Robusta beans have a roasted, nutty flavor and contain about three times the amount of caffeine as an Arabica bean. Try blending your favorite coffee with half Robusta for an extra kick.

Decaf _____

DECAF SUMATRA SWP

This bean was decaffeinated by using the Swiss Water Process. It holds a mellow roast flavor well into a French roast. It is particularly suited for those who desire to have their coffee undergo a more natural process of decaffeination and still maintain the bean's natural flavor.

DECAF HONDURAS SWP

This bean was decaffeinated by using the Swiss Water Process. It is a well balanced coffee with a smooth, creamy texture. It has a full coffee flavor with hints of molasses.
